Chicago Grain and Produce. CHICAGO, July 9.-Trading in wheat was active and the market was stronger. There was some investment buying and shorts covered freely: July advanced 2c and closed 15c higher time yesterday; August open-ed 14c 5c higher, declined 5c, then advanced 150c, closed 150c; September closed 150c higher; December, which attracted the principal attention, opened Market higher, declined 50c, then advanced 11g and closed 13c higher that yesterday The feeling was unsettled early in the session but developed into a bullish tendency. The very strong tenor of foreign advices was the principal influence on the market, English market evedently being affected some by dry weather. Domestic markets were all higher. There was some buying no doubt in expectation that the government report will make a poor showing. Some look for a falling off in winter wheat. It was generally rumored that the report would put the condition of wheat in Da kota at 70 instead of 88 last month. A moderate business was transacted in corn with the bulk of the trading at slightly higher prices, a firmer feeling prevailing. The better tone was due largely to the active demand for each property. The market opened at yesterday closing prices, advanced %c, fluctuated frequently within a narrow range and closed Mc better than yesterday.

Oats developed more rapidly but it was at a lower range of prices. The demand was light and the execution of outside selfing orders coupled with liberal offerings Fairly active trade was reported in mess pork and almost exclusively in August were made 5c advance and a weaker feel ing was developed later and prices receded COMMISSION COMPANY 1001236c. Towards the close the feeling was stronger and prices rallied 7500 100 but settled back again 5c775c and closed Rooms 405 and 406 Chamber of Commerce, steady.

A moderate business was transacted in the lard market. The feeling was some-what unsettled and prices ruled irregular and averaged lower. Opening sales were made at yesterday's closing figures, but a weak feeling was quickly developed and a reduction of 7 -c was submitted. Towards the close the feeling was steadier and prices advanced be and closed stendy.

WAYS AND MEANS TO PROFITABLE FRUIT GROWING AND GARDENING.

A New Variety of Chrysanthemum Which Differs Materially from Others in Cultivation and in the Time of Its Bloom

The artistic portrait of a spray of the All Drivers have positive orders to prevent passengers from getting on and off front platform of cars, or stand on the says of the new comer:

THE NEW CHRYSANTHEMUM NYMPH.EA. This variety differs materially from others in cultivation; when the pure white flowers first open they have some what the form of the common pond lily, the yellow anthers in the center making the same delicate contrast with the broad petals. The resemblance is carried still further by a delightful fragrance that suggests the water lily to most people, especially when the flowers are opening. After the flowers have remained open a few days the petals commence curving inwards, and this movement continues until the center is entirely covered and the beautifully incurved flower shows no trace of color mingling with its spot less white, and it continues for a long period in this state. This peculiarity is so marked and distinct from other varieties that flowers picked from the same plant might easily be mistaken for different varieties if not seen growing together. The flowers, about two inches across, are borne individually on long stems standing well above the foliage, which allows each flower to be cut without destroying others, making it most valuable for cut flower raisers.

This variety seems also to possess a tendency to bloom out of the usual season. The spray from which our picture was chosen was cut on March 10, and some plants in six-inch pots were in full bloom during all of March last. The habit of the plant is robust and compact, ranging from two to three feet in height, with leaves of a dark rich green, which display the flowers to great advantage. As the plants never need disbudding, growing and blooming freely with ordinary care, it seems peculiarly adapted to general culture when its merits become

It originated as a seedling, being raised in 1887 in Bergen county, N. J., among a number of hybrids whose parentage was unfortunately lost. The present stock is owned by a florist of Ridgewood, N. J., who is carefully developing it to place upon the market.

Seeds from Early and Late Ripening Fruits. In a report from the Michigan Agricultural college station occurs the follow-

Fifty-two varieties of tomatoes were planted in duplicate, six plants being grown from seeds of the first ripe fruits of 1887, and the six adjoining hills from seeds selected some two weeks later. from these varieties, it was found that the seeds of the first ripe fruits produced at the first picking 85% pounds of ripe fruit, while the other plants gave 281 pounds only, showing a gain of 71 pounds in favor of planting seeds of the first ripe fruits, or 25 per cent. Examining the figures, it was found that the angular sorts, which naturally ripen early, produced 26 9-16 pounds at the first picking from the first ripe fruits. while only 6 11-16 pounds were produced by the late fruits, or only one-fourth as many. With the apple shaped sorts the result was reversed, as the yield was respectively 8 3-16 pounds and 21 7-15 pounds for the seeds from the first and the late ripening fruits, or, in other words, the first picking of tomatoes of angular varieties gave four times as many fruits from plants grown from seeds of the first ripe fruits as from those selected from the main crop, while with the apple shaped sorts only two-fifths as

An odd feat in the prosstrian line has just been accomplished by an old man, George Borden, 73 years or age. He walked from Albion, Mich., to Chatham, N. Y., with a wheelbarrow and his trunk, weighing 150
